> FROM WASHINGTON. FIRST DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, September 16. APPREHENDED CAPTURE OF HARPER'S FERRY -NO NEWS FROM M'CLELLAN. It is believed at the War Department that Harper's Ferry surrendered to the rebels at 9 A. M, yesterday, after Colonel Miles had been mortally wounded. Accounts to that effect, none of them official, have been received, both via Chambersburg and Point of Rocks. If it be true, nothing can prevent the mass of the rebel army from making good its retreat into Virginia. Miles' cavalry forces cut its way out from Harper's Ferry on Sunday night, and started for Chambersburg, capturing Longstreet's ammunition train and other wagons to the number of 60 in MR Epiron:--Since my last or on the all, on their way.
